

OPEN DAY 29 March: AI IN HEALTHCARE

Artificial intelligence (AI) can be useful for improving healthcare. How do we take the innovations from studies to the clinics?

09:00 - 09:15	Opening and welcome Centre Director Stein Olav Skrøvseth, Norwegian Centre for E-health Research and Hubert Życiński, Deputy Director, Department of Innovation, Polish Ministry of Health
09:15 - 09:35	AI implementation in healthcare Maryam Tayefi, Senior Researcher PhD, Norwegian Centre for E-health Research
09:35 - 09:40	Questions
09:40 - 10:00	How to build reliable AI tools in medicine? Marcin Moniuszko, Professor, Medical University of Bialystok, Poland
10:00 - 10:05	Questions
10:05 - 10:25	IMPACT: Person-centred prediction of benefit for multimorbid patients Phuong Dinh Ngo, Senior Researcher PhD, Norwegian Centre for E-health Research
10:25 - 10:30	Questions
10:30 - 10:50	Preparing for implementing AI in a Norwegian health trust – lessons learned Gro-Hilde Severinsen, Researcher PhD, Norwegian Centre for E-health Research
10:50 - 10:55	Questions
10:55 - 11:00	Closing remarks and ending of event

This is a Zoom webinar.

Please register to participate: <https://bit.ly/3ZJVbqE>